NavalHEAD

BEYOND THE WAKE.

ABOUT NavalHEAD

Founded in 2010 by naval architect and engineer Andrea Agrusta, member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers (SNAME), NavalHEAD is an international naval architecture and marine engineering company delivering advanced engineering and R&D solutions to the global yachting and marine industry.

Based in Trieste, Italy, with a new Viareggio hub dedicated to detailed and production engineering, NavalHEAD works worldwide through a multidisciplinary team of more than 20 specialised engineers and technicians.

In over 15 years of activity, the Company has delivered more than 138 projects and contributed to the engineering and construction of over 300 yachts and vessels worldwide, from 30-metre pleasure yachts to large custom and high-tech vessels.

ENGINEERING & EXPERTISE

A comprehensive range of services covers every stage of a vessel's development and construction. Combined with integrated project management and technical consultancy, this gives clients a single, consistent technical interface throughout the project lifecycle, even for the most complex activities.

INTEGRATED APPROACH

NavalHEAD pairs specialised expertise with a truly multidisciplinary approach, drawing on its international network and trusted technical partners.

Close relationships with the plan-approval departments of leading IACS classification societies, including RINA, Lloyd's Register, ABS and DNV, as well as with major flag-state authorities, ensure a coordinated approach from initial design through engineering, construction and delivery.

INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVE

Rooted in Italy and connected worldwide, NavalHEAD combines deep naval architecture expertise with a global outlook and a constant drive for innovation. Its multidisciplinary structure and proven experience deliver advanced, reliable and efficient solutions for the evolving needs of the yachting and marine industry.
